Bears Who Care* Get Creative for Good Cause

(North Bay, ON) – The St. Joseph-Scollard Hall Bears Who Care have found a crafty way to help a family in need of support in India. The group has created a selection of greeting cards—some for every occasion – and will be selling them for the remainder of the school year for $2 each. Proceeds will be donated to a disadvantaged family they are supporting in India. Additional funds will support other local charities including Victoria’s Quilts.

“This is a way for our students to give back and really see the results of their efforts,” said SJSJH teacher Suzanne Guillemette. “One of the disadvantaged families we previously supported benefited so much from our efforts that, after a while, they no longer needed our support, and that makes our students feel great, knowing they are making such a difference in the lives of others.”

Cards are available for sale at the school library from Monday to Friday until the end of June. Those interested in purchasing cards are asked to sign in at the school’s front office. For more information, call 494-8600.

*Please note that the Bears Who Care will also be selling their cards at the Annual Old Fashioned Christmas Walk downtown North Bay this Friday, November 26 at 6 p.m.
